

9/11

Remembering the Heroes

As it recedes into history, it seems more vital than ever to remember 9/11: to honor the sacrifices of slain heroes and their loved ones; to acknowledge the suffering of the injured and the bereavement of the survivors; to recall the sorrow of a nation.

Most of today's K-12 students have little, if any, recollection of 9/11. That's why it's important to continue to educate them on the events that took place, and how our country forever changed on that day.
