Celebrate fall and our civic heritage

It's fall! For much of the nation, that means harvest time, falling leaves, and cooler weather—perfect for football games, the last cookouts of the season, and turning our thoughts to home and hearth as winter approaches. It also means looking ahead to November, an important month in America's "civil religion." November is when we choose our leaders on Election Day, honor our veterans on Veterans Day, and celebrate our blessings and our national origin story with Thanksgiving. As October gets under way and November approaches, it's a great time for students to learn about our nation's vibrant early history and lively civic heritage.
